WA-14-13

Analysis Prepared by the Department of Natural Resources

- 1. Statutes interpreted: In promulgating these rules, section 103 of 2013 Wisconsin Act 1 has been interpreted as authorizing rule revisions. Section 103 is a non-statutory provision directing the Department to revise certain rules and to clarify the rules' applicability to ferrous mining activities that are regulated under the new provisions of subchapter III of chapter 295, Stats.
- 2. Statutory authority: Section 103 of 2013 Wisconsin Act 1.

3. Explanation of agency authority:

2013 Wisconsin Act 1 (hereafter the Act) modified existing laws relating to metallic mining and created subch. III of ch. 295, Stats., for the regulation of ferrous metallic mining. A "ferrous mineral" is an ore that exists primarily in the form of an iron oxide, including taconite and hematite. Section 103 of the Act direct the Department to propose revisions to certain rules so that the rules are consistent with subch. III of chapter 295, Stats., and with the other statutory revisions made by the Act. These included:

- Section 103(1)(a) of the Act directs the Department to revise the mining regulations in chs. NR 130, 131, 132, and 182, Wis. Adm. Code, to clarify that these rules do not apply to ferrous metallic mining regulated under subch. III of ch. 295, Stats.
- Section 103(1)(b) of the Act directs the Department to revise the solid waste rules in chs. NR 500 to 555, Wis. Adm. Code, and the hazardous waste rules in chs. NR 660 to 679, Wis. Adm. Code, so that the rules are consistent with the provisions of subch. III of ch. 295, Stats.
- Section 103(1)(c) of the Act directs the Department to revise any rules that provide exemptions for nonferrous mining or associated activities to provide the same exemptions for ferrous mining and associated activities in accordance with 2013 Wisconsin Act 1.

4. Related statutes or rules:

Exemptions for metallic mining appear in sections of the Wisconsin Administrative Code relating to water quality standards for wetlands (s. NR 103.06), the well compensation program (s. NR 123.02), nonmetallic mining (s. NR 135.02), groundwater quality (s. NR 140.03), industrial lagoons (s. NR 213.02), land treatment of industrial liquid wastes (s. NR 214.02), air program construction permits (s. NR 406.08), well construction and pump installation (s. NR 812.02), and injection wells (ss. NR 815.03 (30) (Note), 815.06 and 815.11).

5. Plain language analysis: The objective of the proposed rules is to satisfy the Department's obligation to promulgate rules as directed by section 103 of the Act, and as explained in item 3. above. The proposed rules clarify that ferrous mining activities are regulated under the new subch. III of chapter 295, Stats., created by the Act. The proposed rules 1) revise the mining regulations in chs. NR 130, 131, 132, and 182, Wis. Adm. Code, to clarify that these rules apply only to nonferrous mining; 2) revise the solid waste regulations in chs. NR 500 to 538, Wis. Adm. Code, to be consistent with the new ferrous mining law and to clarify that the rules apply only to solid waste facilities that are not regulated under the mining laws; and 3) revise sections of other regulations that currently provide an exemption for metallic mining activities so that the rules are consistent with the Act.

The Department has reviewed all chapters of the Wisconsin Administrative Code administered by the Department and has proposed amendments to those rules as required by section 103 of the Act. Generally, proposed language has been added to specific sections so that the rules are consistent with the new ferrous mining law, subch. III of ch. 295, and with other statutory amendments made by the Act.

The Department determined that some rules identified in section 103 do not require revision. The Department did not propose revisions to chs. NR 540 to 555 of the solid waste rules because these rules do not apply to metallic mining. The Department did not propose revisions to chs. NR 660 to 679, the hazardous waste rules, because the applicable rules are required by federal law and thus the existing rules are in accordance with s. 295.51(1e)(b), Stats. of the new ferrous mining law.

The Department has also determined that certain rules identified in the scope statement do not require amendment. No changes to ch. NR 150, Wis. Adm. Code, are needed in this Board Order because a separate Board Order, OE-46-10, included a provision in ch. NR 150 that complies with the Act. Specifically, language in s. NR 150.30 (1) (j) applies equally to ferrous and nonferrous mining and provides that if there are conflicting procedures for environmental review in statutes, including ch. 295, Stats., those procedures govern. No changes are required to the fee exemption provision of ch. NR 216, Wis. Adm. Code, provided for nonferrous metallic mining storm water permits because no storm water permit fee will be required for a ferrous mining storm water permit application. While the Department believes no changes were required in ch. NR 350, Wis. Adm. Code, because the applicable provisions in ch. NR 350 are consistent with the statutory provisions for regulation of ferrous and nonferrous mining, the department did add a statement to s. NR 350.02, clarifying that ch. NR 350 does not apply to ferrous mining or bulk sampling activities conducted in accordance with s. 295.60, Stats.

6. Summary and comparison with existing and proposed federal regulations.

The changes in state law made by the Act and the changes in state rules proposed in this Board Order apply to the State of Wisconsin's regulation of mining activity. All applicable federal laws continue to apply to proposed ferrous and nonferrous mining activities. The proposed rule changes do not conflict with applicable federal laws and regulations.

Both ferrous and nonferrous metallic mining activities must meet the requirements of federal laws such as the Clean Water Act, 42 U.S.C. 1251 to 1387 and the Clean Air Act, 42 U.S.C. 7401 to 7671q. These federal laws are administered by EPA and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (ACOE). In addition, hazardous wastes are subject to federal hazardous waste laws under Subtitle C of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA), although mining wastes are generally exempt from federal hazardous waste laws under the Bevill Exclusion (42 U.S.C. 6921(b)(3)(A)).

The ferrous metallic mining statute, s. 295.51(1e)(b), specifies that mining wastes that are hazardous are subject to regulation under subch. III of ch. 295, and not under chs. NR 660 to 679, the state's hazardous waste rules, except as necessary to comply with applicable federal hazardous waste regulations adopted under the RCRA, 42 U.S.C. 6901 to 6991m. The Department is authorized by the EPA to administer the federal hazardous waste program in Wisconsin. The state is required to have regulations that are at least as stringent as those required by federal law. State hazardous waste rules that identify when a waste is hazardous (e.g., if the waste has certain characteristics or meets specific listings) are parallel and equivalent to the federal hazardous waste regulations. State regulations that identify when a mining waste is exempt from regulation are also parallel to federal law. Because the applicable state regulations in chs. NR 660 to 679 are consistent with and necessary to comply with federal hazardous waste regulations, no changes are proposed in these chapters.

7. Comparison of similar rules in adjacent states:

The Department's proposed rules implement changes required by the Act. The Department has not prepared a detailed analysis of ferrous mining rules in adjacent states. In a memorandum dated October 26, 2011, the Wisconsin Legislative Council prepared an analysis of the mine permitting process in adjacent States at the request of the Senate Select Committee On Mining Jobs. The analysis is titled, "Ferrous Mining Permit Application Process in Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Michigan". A copy of this analysis will be provided upon request. At present, both Minnesota and Michigan have active ferrous mining operations.

Neither Iowa or Illinois have active metallic mining programs. Iowa does not have metallic mining regulations. Illinois regulations for mining are focused on specific areas covering mine reclamation, mine safety, abandoned mines, and oil & gas.

8. Summary of factual data and analytical methodologies:

The Department reviewed current rules to determine if amendments were required by section 103 of the Act. The Department did not conduct any other analysis or use specific data to support the proposed changes to the rules. The Department made no changes other than those directed by section 103.

9. Analysis and supporting documents used to determine effect on small business or in preparation of an economic impact analysis:

The department has completed the Fiscal Estimate and Economic Impact Analysis form [DOA-2049 (RO3/2012)] as part of this rule analysis. The Department did solicit comments on a draft of this Fiscal Estimate / Economic Impact Analysis (FE/EIA) from parties that could be interested in the proposed rule changes. These interested parties included Native American Tribes, environmental groups, federal environmental agencies, mining companies, and business associations. All comments received were considered in finalizing the Economic Impact Analysis.

10. Effect on small business (initial regulatory flexibility analysis):

The Department does not believe these proposed rule changes will affect small businesses.

11. A copy of any comments and opinion prepared by the Board of Veterans Affairs under s. 45.03 (2m), Stats., for rules proposed by the Department of Veterans Affairs: Not applicable.

The provisions of this chapter are not applicable to those activities which are intended for and capable of commercial exploitation of the underlying ore body. However, the fact that prospecting activities and construction may have use ultimately in mining, if approved, shall does not mean that prospecting activities and construction constitute mining pursuant to the definition of mining contained in s. 293.01 (9), Stats., provided such activities and construction are reasonably related to prospecting requirements. NR 140.03 Applicability. This subchapter and subch. II apply to all facilities, practices, and activities which may affect groundwater quality and which are regulated under chs. 85, 93, 94, 101, 145, 281, 283, 287, 289, 291, and 292, Stats., by the department of agriculture, trade and consumer protection, the department of safety and professional services, the department of transportation, or the department of natural resources, as well as to facilities, practices, and activities which may affect groundwater quality which are regulated by other regulatory agencies. Health-related enforcement standards adopted in s. NR 140.10 also apply to bottled drinking water manufactured, bottled, sold, or distributed in this state as required by s. 97.34 (2) (b), Stats., and to determining eligibility for the well compensation program under s. 281.75, Stats. Subchapter III applies to all facilities, practices, and activities which may affect groundwater quality and which are regulated by the department under ch. 281, 283, 287, 289, 291, 292, 295, or 299, Stats. This chapter applies to ferrous metallic mining operations and mining sites, including mining waste sites, as defined in s. 295.41 (31), Stats., but only to the extent that it does not conflict with subch. III of ch. 295, Stats. Groundwater quality standards, consisting of enforcement standards and preventive action limits contained in ss. NR 140.10 and 140.12, and preventive action limits for indicator parameters identified under s. NR 140.20 (2), apply to ferrous metallic mining operations and mining sites, as defined in s. 295.41 (31), Stats., including mining waste sites, regulated under subch. III of ch. 295, Stats. This chapter does not apply to any facilities, practices, or activities on a nonferrous metallic mining prospecting site or a mining site regulated under ch. 293, Stats., because those facilities, practices, and activities are subject to the groundwater quality requirements of chs. NR 131, 132, and 182. The department may promulgate new rules or amend rules governing facilities, practices or activities regulated under ch. 293, Stats., if the department determines that the amendment or promulgation of rules is necessary to protect public health, safety, or welfare. The requirements of this chapter are in addition to the requirements of any other statutes and rules, except as provided in s. 295.645 (9), Stats.

SECTION 20. NR 182 (title) is amended to read:

NR 182 (title) NONFERROUS METALLIC MINERAL MINING WASTES

SECTION 21. NR 182.01 is amended to read:

NR 182.01 Purpose. The purpose of this chapter is to identify nonferrous metallic mineral mining and prospecting wastes and to regulate the location, design, construction, operation, maintenance, closure, and long—term care of the site and facilities for the storage and disposal of nonferrous metallic mineral mining and prospecting wastes. The rules consider the special requirements of nonferrous metallic mineral mining operations in the location, design, construction, operation, and maintenance of sites and facilities for the disposal of nonferrous metallic mineral mining wastes as well as any special environmental concerns that will arise as the result of the storage and disposal of nonferrous metallic mineral mining wastes.

SECTION 22. NR 182.02 (1), (4), (5), and (9) are amended to read:

NR 182.02 (1) These rules govern all solid waste disposal sites and facilities for nonferrous metallic mineral mining and prospecting operations as defined in s. 293.01 (9) and (18), Stats. This chapter does not apply to ferrous metallic mining regulated under subch. III of ch. 295, Stats.

- (4) Sites and facilities utilized for the storage, transportation, treatment, and disposal of nonmining solid wastes, not covered by the definition of metallic mineral mining and prospecting wastes waste, shall comply with the provisions of chs. NR 500 to 555 and 660 to 670.
- (5) The provisions of this chapter are not applicable to the design, construction, or operation of industrial wastewater facilities, sewerage systems, and waterworks treating liquid waste approved under s. 281.41, Stats., and/or or permitted under ch. 283, Stats., nor to sites used solely for the disposal of liquid industrial wastes which have been approved under s. 281.41, Stats., and/or or permitted under ch. 283, Stats., except for sites and facilities used for the ultimate disposal of metallic mining and prospecting waste.
- (9) Pursuant to s. 293.13 (2) (a), Stats., the department may classify prospecting and mining activities according to the type of minerals involved. The department recognizes that the minimum standards contained in this chapter may be insufficient in regulating uranium prospecting and mining operations and the disposal of radioactive waste resulting from these and other metallic mining operations. Accordingly, the department shall cooperate with the department of health services and the radiation protection council, pursuant to s. 254.34 (1) (a) and (am), Stats., to assist in defining the term "radioactive mining waste". The department shall continue its evaluation of disposal practices for such wastes and shall, if necessary, request that rules be adopted to regulate uranium prospecting and mining and radioactive wastes resulting from any metallic prospecting or mining operation.

SECTION 23. NR 182.04 (28) and (29) are amended to read:

NR 182.04 (28) "Merchantable by–product" means all waste soil, rock, mineral, liquid, vegetation, and other material directly resulting from or displaced by the mining, cleaning, or preparation of nonferrous metallic minerals during mining operations which are determined by the department to be marketable upon a showing of marketability made by the operator, accompanied by a verified statement by the operator of his or her intent to sell such material within 3 years from the time it results from or is displaced by mining. If after 3 years from the time merchantable by–product results from or is displaced by mining such material has not been transported off the mining site, it shall be considered and regulated as refuse as defined in s. 293.01 (25), Stats., unless removal is continuing at a rate of more than 12,000 cubic yards per year.

(29) "Mining" or "mining operation" means all or part of the process involved in the mining of nonferrous metallic minerals other than for exploration or prospecting, including commercial extraction, agglomeration, beneficiation, construction of roads, removal of overburden, and the production of refuse.

SECTION 24. NR 182.04 (28m) and (29m) are created to read:

NR 182.04 (30) "Mining waste" means any refuse, sludge, or other discarded material, including solid, liquid, semi—solid, or contained gaseous material, resulting from nonferrous metallic mineral prospecting or mining, or from the cleaning or preparation of nonferrous metallic minerals during prospecting or mining operations. Typical mining wastes include, but are not limited to, tailings, waste rock, mine overburden, and waste treatment sludges. Mining waste does not include topsoil and mine overburden not disposed of in a waste site, but placed in a facility permitted under ch. "Prospecting" shall not include such activities when the activities are, by themselves, intended for and capable of commercial exploitation of the underlying ore body. However, the fact that prospecting activities and construction may have use ultimately in mining, if approved, shall not mean that prospecting activities and construction constitute mining within the meaning of sub.
